

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1882.

NO. 57.

Corn cutting will next be in order.
The Lexington trotting races begin Oct. 10th.
On yesterday the sun crossed the equinoctial line.
PARIS schools have a daily attendance of 270 scholars.
SEVERAL new bridges being built on the M. & L. line.
The ground is too dry and hard to plow in Bourbon.
THERE will be a foot race at the Maysville Fair Friday.
THREE prisoners broke jail at Williams-town Sunday night.
The Falmouth fair held over Saturday, owing to the pressure of business.
The extra train this week, to the Maysville Fair, just suits to a dot.
TAXES of City, County, and State, are now badly wanted by the officers.
THREE more convicts have escaped from the K. C. extension near Winchester.
Big crowd in Georgetown yesterday, and lots of whiskey and stock on the market.
McCLURE & INGELS have opened out in a new departure. See their "adv." in this issue.
BUD ALEXANDER will erect a saloon and restaurant on his lot in rear of our new depot.
POLK FOSYTH sold last week, twenty shares of Agricultural bank stock, for $133 per share.
If you want a boy's suit that cannot be beaten in style, texture or price, call at McClure & Ingels.
MIKE NORRIS died at his residence opposite the Fair Grounds, on the Clintonville pike, Sunday.
MISS ELIZA MCCLINTOCK, of this city, has a fig tree which bore several hundred ripe figs this season.
WANTED—A sprightly boy to learn the printing trade. None but a first-class boy meaning business, need apply.
The grass has commenced to burn by locomotive sparks along the line of the K. C., in spite of its green appearance.
The fourth Kentucky Infantry, Col. Fry, Croxton and Kelley, will have a reunion in Lexington, on the tenth of October.
The K. C. line is doing an immense passenger traffic, and their trains on the main line average from six to eight cars per train.
BUSINESS is beginning to boom in Paris. Our merchants have lots of goods for sale, and they are telling the people so through the News.
McCLURE & INGELS are closing out an immense stock of boots and shoes of every description, to make room for their mammoth stock of clothing.
The honey-tongued book agent is now doing our city and county with a doctor book. Turn loose the bull dogs and sharpen the butcher knives.
The corn shuck is said to be unusually heavy and thick, indicative of a regular "he" old winter. Pile up your wood and lay in your whiskey in accordance.
The Kentucky Advertiser, an advertising sheet gotten out by Messrs. Polk, Montfort, Browne and others, of Lexington, made its appearance yesterday.
Our old depot is being rapidly torn down and moved away. The water-tank will be next be moved to the junction, and then our misery will be complete.
Burdorf wanted to send us a challenge by a lady Sunday. We dare him to send it. We'll fight him "if he is a christian," who said "damn it," and won a dollar.
The sheriff of Fayette county, with warrants sworn out by Commonwealth's Attorney Bronston, waltzed the faro dealers of Lexington to jail last Thursday night.
The Maysville people will boom out this morning with a brass band, two cyclones and a tornado in a grand procession, as a prelude to clatter-de-bang to open their fair.
Lots of "Old Virginia" darkies from the K. C. extension, taking holiday on our streets Sunday. Though very black and rough looking, they are a very polite and orderly lot of hands.
An order slate for calls of the Bourbon House omnibus will be always kept at the telegraph office. The 'bus will call at all portions of the city when ordered. The 'bus will be free only to the guests of the house.

The Capital Hotel in Frankfort sold for $16,700.
Newport has only fifteen small-pox cases.
HAMILTON county Ohio democrats held their convention to-day.
BLACKBURN spoke at Georgetown yesterday, and Owens didn't. He is still sick.
ALL the pretty girls and handsome widows are hereby forewarned, that Gen'l Buford will attend the Maysville hops this week.
NINE street cars are not enough for Lexington, and four more have been ordered. If Lexington can use thirteen, Paris ought to keep two busy.
The wife of Noah Porter, col'd, while attempting to cross the railroad bridge near Lair's Station yesterday morning, was run over and both legs cut off by a construction train. She lived but a short time after the accident.
Profs. Amende, Shapleigh, and others, gave a musical soiree at the Episcopal church last Friday night, in the trial of the new organ. The organ is an elegant one, and has all the power and sweetness of the big organ in the Cincinnati Music Hall.
OPPOSITION is the live of trade, saith the old proverb. In the clothing department, McClure & Ingels will offer as lively a competition as any firm heretofore in this market. Their goods are all bran splinter new, and as bright as new gold dollars.
E. V. ZOLLARS, President of the Kentucky Classical and Business College at North Middletown, assigned last week, to W. H. Kerr. Liabilities, and assets unknown. We understand that a stock is being arranged and that the school will be run the same as ever.
TOM BASHFORD has a watermelon raised by John Bealart, on the Smith Kenney farm, which weighs 54½ pounds. A diamond that size placed in his window, wouldn't daze the sight of a country carkey more. It will be raffled off at 25 cents a chance, with sixteen chances.
PARIS is now enjoying a big business boom. Our merchants are flush with new goods, and the farmers are flush with money. J. L. Taylor & Co., A. Newhoff, and McClure & Ingels, all have running stocks of goods, and want to sell them as indicated by their advertisements in this issue.
BAYLES & RION have a refrigerator which they had built to order, which is of a new and improved plan, and is 8 x 6 in height and depth. It is large enough to hold a whole beef, two dozen turkeys, and a hundred cans of oysters. It's mechanism is complete, and it's plan originated in the brain of Newt Rion. It was built in Cincinnati, at a cost of $150.
SUNDAY afternoon, John Jones, a big yellow man who used to turn Craddock's press, got on a big drunk and raised Cain by assaulting two of George Johnson's and two of Jim Earleywine's little girls, for pure deviltry, while they were riding out. Jim Earleywine fired two shots at him with no effect, and Johnson arrested him. On a charge of assault, he was held over in the sum of $100 yesterday.
ONE of the most disgusting sights that has ever been seen on the streets of Paris, was that of a Lexington bicyclist dressed in tights, and walking down street from church with a lady. Every man he passed felt like mauling him to death with a stuffed club. There were seven of those disgusting adventurers in our city at one time Sunday afternoon. They ought to be legislated against, as long as they dress indecently.
A Rare Relic.
We acknowledge receipt per registered package by mail, from our old friend Charlie Herbst, Librarian of Macon, Ga., a piece of the rudder stem of the U. S. war steamer "Kearsage," which sunk the Confederate cruiser "Alabama" off the coast of France, June 19th '64. Capt. Semmes in a letter to Mr. Herbst, in behalf of the Historical Society of Georgia, wrote since the war: "The piece of oak I send you, is from the stem of the 'Kearsage.' If the percussion cap had performed its duty, I should have been called on to save Capt. Winslow's crew from drowning. The enemy were very proud of this shell. It was the only trophy they ever got of the 'Alabama.' The shell with a portion of the wood cut out, is now on exhibition in a glass case in Washington.
In the battle, the two ships were nearly equally matched, save that the 'Kearsage' was made an iron-clad by being wrapped around with immense iron cable chains. She carried 7 guns and 162 men, and the 'Alabama' 8 guns and 149 men.

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.
This is a dull paper.
Oh, if it would only rain!
Four Weddings here in October.
Ike Alexander now clerks with L. Frank.
John Sparks, from Missouri, is now in this county.
J. W. Ferguson is recovering after a severe spell of illness.
And now they are talking about a telephone under the ocean.
The British have in Egypt 33,000 men, not including the navy.
Miss Lizzie Shipp will clerk for Miss Mollie Tully, in the future.
The Aribi Bey hat and other articles of dress will be the rage now.
It is hard to choose between a sacred personal duty and loss of life.
A man in Kansas has an acre of onions for which he has refused $400.
Dr. Jno. Ray has been seriously ill again, but is reported better now.
Rev. C. W. Miller, of Lexington, will probably live but a few days longer.
Though we cannot control the wind we can adjust our sails so as to profit by it.
In prayer it is better to have a heart without words, than words without a heart.
It is said that sporting men of Lexington will support Judge Owsley for Governor.
Frank Clay is now behind the counter with McClure & Ingels, in their new departure.
Peacock feathers are emblems of vanity. They serve to point a moral and adorn a tale.
Grant Berry, of Kansas city, married Miss Alice Quinsberry, of Winchester, last Thursday.
The mother of general Frank Woolford, in her ninetieth year, is reported dangerously ill.
The most stylish dress is the one that all the ladies turn up their noses at in a fashionable crowd.
Mrs. Eliza Batts, col'd, took the premium in the ladies equestrienne ring at the col'd fair last Friday.
Hon. John G. Carlisle is the only member who will be returned to Congress without opposition.
North Middletown people are all broken up in sorrow, and are very non-communicative about the Zollars assignment.
We should do nothing for revenge, but everything for security; nothing for the past; everything for the present and future.
A. A. Breckenridge and wife, returned to their home, near Plattsburg, Mo., last week, after a protracted visit to old friends here.
Another of Gen. Washington's old acquaintances have just died at Danville. She was colored, 120 years of age, named Jennie Roode.
About the most graceful thing Owens could do now would be to draw off. Better that than a defeat by over 7,000 in the district.
John Stuart, of Winchester, a brother of Tom, the representative, has been appointed assistant Sargeant-at-Arms of the Superior Court.
The proposition to open up a new street to our depot will be made in the Council to-night. A good step—it ought to be pushed through.
Maysville has a coin that is 2,300 years old, but Craddock can beat that. He has one that Adam carried as a pocket piece in the Garden of Eden.
During a military parade in a New York town, last week, a young man in the ranks tried to bow to three girls at once, and broke his neck.
A Chicago man has been arrested for assaulting his father-in-law with a club. It is supposed that he got in his work while his mother-in-law was out.
The best receipt for going through life happily is to feel that everybody, no matter how rich or how poor, needs all the kindness he can get from others.
Nashville has a female shoemaker named Peggy. May the Lord bless her sweet little sole, and make her double-upper kit and come to Kentucky.
The richest man in Mexico is an Irishman named Patricio Milmo, who owns a 400,000-acre farm, and is worth $10,000,000. He smokes a stone pipe, and says "be jabers."
A lady's toast to men: "God bless 'em. We halve their joys, double their sorrows, treble their expenses, quadruple their cares, excite their affections, control their property and out-manoeuvre them in everything."
A Chicago girl has lost her lover because she insisted on carrying her poodle dog. The young man said he could stand the size of her feet, and the working of her jaws on a hunk of taffy, but the fleas were too much for him.

Buford asked a friend at the Lexington races if it was any harm to bet on a certainty, and when told that it was not, put up his dollar and won one from his friend Geo. B. Kinkead, on the field against Grinstead.
A lovely Frankfort girl who has been spending a month or so at seaside resorts remarked the other day that she wanted nothing better than to be back home, sitting in a wrapper on the back porch with her face buried in a water-melon.
A colored couple got married in Louisville last week, by jumping the broomstick. An old shriveled hag stood by in the capacity of voodoo, and said "non compus mentus lignum vita Epluribus Unum rip sockity bomb," in order that the spell of good luck would forever haunt them.
Miss Florence Kennedy (Mrs. Huntley), appeared here in "Flirtation" with $12,000 worth of diamonds. Her costume was rich and rare beyond conception, and she was as pretty as an angel. The lady is of Southern nativity—having been born at Natchez, Miss., and is connected with the best families in the State.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.
Ballard sickened the Bourbon boys at Lexington Saturday.
300 bushels of seed rye for sale.
4t. Sidney Clay.
Harry Wilkes won the 2:40 race at the Louisville Fair in three straight heats.
Tobacco sticks are selling at from $3.50 to $6.00 per thousand, in this market.
The celebrated Kentucky horse, Jewett, from Pa., will trot at Maysville Wednesday.
Pryor's Bob Lee herd took seven premiums—all that were offered, at the Falmouth fair.
W. H. Inskeep, of Fayette, sold his farm "Castleton," of 560 acres Saturday, to J. M. Foster, Madison, for $65,000.
Robert Cochran, of Madison county, has a hundred-acre field of corn that will average one hundred bushels to the acre.
W. W. Baldwin has purchased of Charles Howell, of this county, fifty, two-year old mules, to be delivered December 1st, at $106 28 per head.
The tobacco crop of Bath county this year is estimated at one million dollars. The wheat crop was valued at $300,000.
Maj. Thos. Shelby, of Fayette, sold twenty-nine knotty walnut logs for $1,000, and estimates that the cord wood saved from the tops will net him $290 more.
At the pacing race at the colored fair Friday, there were three entries. The race was won by John Wright, a white man. Lum Ferguson and Jeff Elgin's horses were the other entries.
Ten hogsheds of Mason county tobacco, the property of Best & Bro., which took the second premium at Cincinnati, sold at from $28.25 to $30.00 per cwt. Five hogsheds belonging to a German-town man sold at from $27.58 to $31.75 per cwt.
Three bluegrass cleaning machines are now in operation in Paris, turning out daily about 1,600 bushels of clean seed. R. B. Hutchcraft made a shipment of 2,000 bushels West last Friday, at $1.20 per bushel.
A stock company composed of J. W. Lell, S. P. Gross, J. E. Keller and others of Lexington bought, Woodland, a portion of the Henry Clay estate, for $40,000, last week. They will cut it up in building lots and sell it out.
Foxhall, Bookmaker, Romeo and Walenstein will contend for the Caesarowitch, October 10th, at Newmarket, England. Iroquois, Nereid, Sachem, Aranza, Foxhall, Don Fulano, Bookmaker, and Walenstein will compete for the Cambridge-shire stakes.
A circular issued by the Planter's Warehouse, Cincinnati, says that a report is credited that a hand of new tobacco from the bluegrass region has been analyzed by a chemist in the city, and Paris Green enough was found on it to kill twenty men. It adds, that a verification of the report would forever blast the prospects of the growers in this region, and a promiscuous use of it should be stopped before dangerous results follow.
At the Maysville Fair tomorrow, London, Leontine, Deck Wright, Lumps, Post Boy, Fannie Robinson, and Jewett, will trot for a $500 purse, in the 2:20 class. On Thursday, Dabney, Dixie G., Fannie May, Puritana, Wick, and Yazoo, will contend for $300 in the class that have never trotted better than 2:50. On Friday, Zulu, Stranger, Tucker, Judge Hawes, and Catchfly, will trot for $500—class that have never beaten 2:26. For two-year-olds, purse $100, Alpha, Stonewall, Spartan, Whipple, Strathblaine, Lady Penn, and Bertie Blinn. Saturday, purse $400, Bonnie Wilkes, Bailey, Nan-nie Talbott, Stranger, and Jim Hill.
